

A Remembrance of Charles Norwood Rockcastle

1949 – 1993

As the son of a U.S. Navy pilot, Rocky grew up all over the U.S., with his family eventually locating to Coronado in 1966. At Coronado High School, he was a National Merit Scholar, acted in the Senior Class Play, and was a member of the Stage Crew.

After graduating from CHS in 1967, Rocky attended—with a full scholarship—Miami University of Ohio, where he studied Naval Engineering. After one year at Miami University, Rocky joined the U.S. Marine Corp serving one tour at Da Nang Air Base, Vietnam.

Upon his return, Rocky attended San Diego State University graduating with a degree in accounting, the career he pursued over the next twenty years.

Rocky is survived by his two daughters, Dory of Phoenix, Arizona and Devon of San Diego, California and by his sister, Holley Hoffman (Rockcastle) of San Diego, California.

Source: Family and friends.